G. Read the story below and answer the questions that follow. (20 points)

(1) There were once six blind men who stood by the roadside every day and begged money from the people who passed by. They had often heard of elephants, but they had never seen one because they were all blind.

- (2) It so happened one morning that an elephant was driven down the road where they stood. When they were told that the great beast was before them, they asked the driver to let him stop so that they might see him. Of course they could not see him with their eyes, but they thought that by touching him they could learn just what the elephant was like.
- (3) The first one happened to put his hand on the elephant's side. "Well, well!" he said, "Now I know all about this beast. He is exactly like a wall." The second felt only of the elephant's tusk. "My brother," he said, "you are mistaken. He is not at all like a wall. He is round and smooth and sharp. He is more like a spear than anything else."
- (4) The third happened to take hold of the elephant's trunk (خُرُطُوم). "Both of you are wrong," he said. "Anybody who knows anything can see that this elephant is like a snake." The fourth reached out his arms, and held one of the elephant's legs. "Oh, how blind you are!" he said. "It is very plain to me that he is round and tall like a tree."
- (5) The fifth was a very tall man, and he took hold of the elephant's ear. "The blindest man ought to know that this beast is not like any of the things that you name," he said. "He is exactly like a huge fan." The sixth was very blind indeed, and it was some time before he could find the elephant at all. At last, he seized the animal's tail. "Oh foolish fellows!" he cried. "You surely have lost your senses. This elephant is not like a wall, or a spear, or a snake, or a tree; neither is he like a fan. Any man with any sense can see that he is exactly like a rope."

(6) Then the elephant moved on. The six blind men sat by the roadside all day and quarreled about him. Each believed that he knew just how the animal looked, and each called the others names because they did not agree with him. People who have eyes sometimes act as foolishly!
